| FLUSH DOORS |

▪ MANUFACTURING PROCESS

Our range of flush doors in commercial and decorative veneered finishes, are made from chemically treated and kiln dried solid wood battens of selected species and rails are stiles with hardwoods displaying good screw holding capacities apart from durability and strength. Perfect manufacturing techniques ensure dimensional stability and resistance to termites, borers and fungal attacks.

All doors are hot pressed and phenol bonded with glue coated cross banded veneers of selected species. Thickness of face veneers is always above .60 mm for enhanced durability.
